Centre for Neuro Skills Opens New Clinical Facility in Fort Worth, Texas

Bakersfield, CA (August 9, 2017) – Centre for Neuro Skills (CNS) today announced the opening of a new clinical rehabilitation facility in Fort Worth, Texas. The state of the art clinic expands the company's industry presence to five facilities.

The latest addition will offer CNS' renowned treatment programs to a wider population of people seeking rehabilitation for traumatic and acquired brain injury. This is the second CNS facility in Texas. Other locations include Dallas, Texas; and in California – Bakersfield, Los Angeles and San Francisco. The clinic accommodates 40 patients for day treatment and a residential program is slated to open soon.

"CNS has flourished since its inception in 1980," said Dr. Mark J. Ashley, CNS President, CEO and founder. "Our legacy of skill building and fostering independence will be paramount here, as it is in our existing locations."

Housed in a new 17,000 square foot building designed specifically for people with brain injuries, the clinic features a therapy pool, ZeroG® Gait and Balance System, Dynavision™ technology, and programs for vision, counseling, education, cognitive retraining, speech, occupational, and physical therapy.

A patient kitchen, computer center, interactive metronome treatment room, nursing/physician suite, and offices for case management and administrative functions are integrated into the eco-friendly design. Open, spacious therapy rooms and counseling suites accommodate productive individual sessions and classes, and were a key consideration of the building plan.

Located in the City View area of Fort Worth, the clinic is close to many acute care hospitals and healthcare providers that partner with CNS. The clinic is also close to The Shops at Clearfork shopping center, lush parks, cultural attractions and places of worship.

A grand opening event is set for Thursday, Sept. 28, 4:30 PM to 7 PM, by invitation only.

The new facility is located at 6940 Harris Parkway, Fort Worth, Texas. For more information or to make a patient referral, please call CNS at (800) 554-5448.
